

Global Network of Public Health Nursing (GNPHN)

- The aim of the network, is for a global network of, public health nurses, health visitors and community nurses, working in Public Health Nursing, to increase access to public health services across the lifespan for families, individuals and communities throughout the world.
- It believes that high standards of education, research, leadership and practice for public health practitioners, are essential for equity and equality in public health nursing practice.
- This sharing of knowledge across the world has been the driving force of the four previous International Public Health Nursing conferences. The conferences have taken place every 2-3 years.
- The organization is membership based and allows free membership to nurses in developing countries <http://www.gnphn.com/membership/join-the-global-network/>

The 5th International GNPHN Conference

'Good Health & Well Being'

Goal 3 of UN Sustainable Development Goals

Because of their global significance and relevance to Public Health Nursing, it was agreed to explore the contribution of Public Health Nursing to achieving Goal 3 of the UN Sustainable Development Goals 'Good Health & Well Being' as a working title for the conference.

<http://www.un.org/sustainabledevelopment/health/>

The sub themes will focus on how Goal 3 targets can be applied to every aspect and every population group, for example older people's services, maternal & child, mental health, people with disabilities, health care systems and safe environments.

The conference will be hosted by the School of Nursing Sciences, at the University of Nairobi from May 14th - 16th 2019 and will be held at the Safari Park Hotel in Nairobi, Kenya.
